Brisbane Innovators Finalists in the iAwards

Innovative Brisbane-based software company Theta Technologies has been selected as a finalist in the 2005 Australian Information Industry Association iAwards. Theta's InformationLeader solution is one of two contenders in the Agriculture & Primary Industries category.

Acknowledgement at the iAwards is an essential building block in large-scale success, according to one of last year's award winners.

Theta Technologies Pty Ltd was established in Brisbane in 1995 as an e-business consultancy and implementation firm. Through strategic partnerships and by combining industry knowledge with cutting-edge technical expertise, Theta Technologies offers Information Management, Auditing, Compliance and Quality Assurance solutions that are meeting the needs of organisations across all sectors.

Theta's web-based solutions are derived directly from industry standards, feedback and continuous improvement. At the heart of InformationLeader is an innovative data capture system that completely replaces traditional paper-based processes, offering clients a strong competitive edge by reducing costs and standardising workflows.

AIIA is the peak body in Australia for the Information and Communications Technology (ICT) industry. The AIIA works to assist the ICT industry to meet business objectives in corporate and government markets.
